- More than 400 individuals with developmental disabilities, their family members, service providers and advocates from all islands will come together at the Hawai‘i State Capitol to celebrate their abilities during the 19th annual Day at the Capitol on Thursday, March 7, 2019, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The event will highlight national Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month in March.
- The all-day event will include a proclamation signing by Gov. David Ige at 9 a.m. in the Governor’s Ceremonial Room. Gov. Ige will proclaim March as Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month in Hawai‘i, urging the public to recognize the abilities and contributions of people with developmental disabilities, engage with them and encourage them in their endeavors. Participants from across the state will attend the proclamation signing.

- AUCD for All Gala to celebrate Leadership in Civil Rights on March 19

We believe that disability is a natural part of the human experience, that self-determination and community integration are fundamental human rights, and that everyone should be able to participate fully in their communities and be treated with dignity and respect. On this night we will bring together leaders from all sectors who are tireless advocates for disability rights, equity, and inclusion. We will honor those who stand up for civil rights and lead the way toward inclusion, opportunity, and social justice for all. Honorees and speakers include the Honorable Tom Ridge, the Honorable Bobby Scott, Catherine Lhamon, and Claudia Gordon. Tickets, including reduced and a free list for advocates and students, are available at
